

Pseudotaph

Pseudotaph to Tsunami Dock Hitchhikers

Because of the fear of four invasive species
all the bio-snatchers clinging to the tsunami dock benign or not were torched, scraped and buried deep in the sand away from the high tide mark.

Tons of unexpected tsunami debris arrive on the west coast around the clock keeping volunteers cleanup hurried burying tenacious hitchhikers on Japanese dock ark.

Pseudotaph:

Created by Chris Bays

1. Pseudotaph is an invented words for false burial. It is similar to epitaph.
2. It can have a wide range of tone from sad to funny.
3. Any poetry form or free verse.
4. The Pseudotaph “addresses the burial of things, thoughts, concepts, emotions or memories.
5. Though no line restrictions, it is suggested it be kept short.
6. This example rhymed: a-b-c-d a-b-c-d