

Tailgaters

What?

Twas brillig and the slithy toves what this means only Carroll knows.

Santa's Surprise

Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house
Mrs. Jones was tongue-lashing her drunken spouse.

Disagreement

Jack Spratt could eat no fat because his wife would start a spat.

Enlightening

There is crack in everything....(Leonard Cohen) from darkness no light can spring.

Prayer

Our father who art in heaven
I want a woman maven

Contemplation

Evenings when I go to sleep
I count breathes, not sheep

Tailgaters:

1. Rhymed couplet. Often used by Dorothy Parker and Richard Armour
2. Any meter or syllable count
3. First line is a well-known verse. Followed by parody of first line. Rhymes.
4. Titled